

Steve Chupp

---

Steve Chupp is a Resilience Trainer and Coach as well as a Keynote Speaker. He specializes in training business, educational, and health care professionals to successfully manage stress. A popular conference speaker, his keynotes and interactive workshops include humor, videos, inspiring stories, and evidence-based concepts and skills.

Coming from a large family of entrepreneurial businessmen and leaders, Steve led a dynamic and growing organization with local and international influence for many years. His own leadership succession plan serves as an effective model for others to emulate. He is a capable strategist, analytical thinker, consensus builder, and communicator.

Steve earned a bachelor's degree Organizational Management from Bethel College in Mishawaka, Indiana, and a master's degree with an emphasis on research, problem solving, and resilience from Indiana University South Bend.